Make Dairy Posters

June is many things -- Graduation, vacation and Dairy Month. Each year the Cooperative Extension Service and the Virginia Dairy Association sponsor a "June Is Dairy Month" poster contest for 4-H'ers.

The theme of this year's poster contest was "Milk Gives You Energy to Burn."

The judges: Mrs. James Beaty, Mrs. Richard Bartelt and Mr. Earl Pickett had quite a job selecting the winners from among 113 contestants.

Winners in the 9 to 11 age group were first -- Tamara Nash, second --Richard Hamlett, and third - Dee Ann Wooten. In the 12 to 14 age group first place went to Randy Hipps, Second - Lisa Dickerson and third --Debbie Webber. Four of the six winners were from the Pamplin Elementary School, one from the Appomattox Primary School and one from the Appomattox Intermediate School.

Each participant received a cow bell and the winners received ribbons courtesy of the American Dairy Association of Virginia.

This year's participants included: Betty D. Does Job

This is what Atrazine plus an emulsifiable oil will do. After the week end when sections of the county had inches of rain, the grass in this 25 acre corn field was as high as the corn. Richard Nash, the grower, first used plow it up and start over. Atrazine at three pounds plus a gallon per acre did the job -- 100% control.

Still Time For Soybeans

This is part of a 55 acre seeding of Dare Soybeans that Keith Harris has planted. It's Keith's fourth year with soybeans. In 1969 he had 40 acres that were not fertilized and yielded 27 bushels per acre. In 1970 he had 32 acres but dry weather took its toll. This year's crop is broadcast at one and one-half bushels per acre and 400 pounds of 0-14-14 per acre. J. A. Smith , extension agent, reminds Appomattox farmers that soybeans look like a good crop for 1971 and there's still time to get them planted.

Weed Kill Brings Results

Looks like a field of weeds! It is a weed called fieldcress. Last fall Grover Childress seeded Orchard Grass at the rate of 20 lbs. per acre on this field, in mid-April this is the way it looked. The prospects for a hay crop was slim. The big question was should it be plowed and seeded to a Sorghum - Sudan Cross or hope for a kill by using a herbicide. 2,4-D was applied at the rate of one-half pound per acre. Since the stem had begun to elongate, a kill did not occur but the plant's growth was terminated and only nonviable seed was formed. Last week Childress harvested 535 bales of high quality hay from a 6.5 acre field.

Re-cycling Yields New Handbags

With all the talk of ecology and environment, it's interesting to note what can be made from ordinary "throwaways." An example: A most attractive red, white and blue handbag made from squares of plastic cut from plastic Chlorox bleach bottles. The squares are joined together with yarn, with overthe - arm handles made from longer strips of the plastic, likewise decorated with yarn.

Georgie Cunningham, of Gladstone and her aunt, Mrs. Grace Dixon are making the handbags for themselves and for sale to others.
